 Results will be sent by email. This will include links to electronic copies of articles, where these are available.

Evidence

Evidence searching service

The librarians are here to help you with your evidence searches:

- Don't have time to do a search? Don't worry, we can do it for you! Complete the form opposite, or download from our website, and we will conduct the search for you and email you the results.
- Do you need some help or training to complete a search? Starting a course or research project? We run 1:1 or small group training sessions tailored to your needs. These are available in the library or in your place of work.

Contact the library to arrange a training session or to discuss how we can support you.

 this service is only available to ECT staff. Training is available to all staff/students
