Library News

In April the Library team moved into the newly created L&D Innovation team, which is tasked with innovating and improving the education offer within the trust. The Library & Knowledge Service will continue to operate as before, but will be supporting this new workstream within the wider Education team. As part of this new work we are continuing to plan for our move to the new LEAD Centre in the autumn. More details will be released over the summer.

The annual summer reading challenge will launch in June. Sign up to read 6 library fiction or wellbeing books to be entered into the prize draw. We have also been gifted copies of 'The Trust' by M.H. Eccleston to give away for World Book Night. They are available now on a 'first come, first served' basis from the library! For community-based staff please drop us an email if you'd like one.

On Friday 12th May we had a fantastic day in the lecture theatre for International Nurses Day 2023. We spoke with over 200 trust nurses about how the library can support their practice, CPD and wellbeing. We're looking forward to continuing these conversations with our nursing staff.

Research shows that there are huge benefits to reading regularly—it can ease stress and anxiety, improves mood, boosts memory, improves vocabulary and enhances study skills—the list is endless! If you don't already read regularly, now is your chance.

Read 6 library fiction, wellbeing or health story books from the 1st June to 31st August for entry into our prize draw!

RESOURCE OF THE MONTH

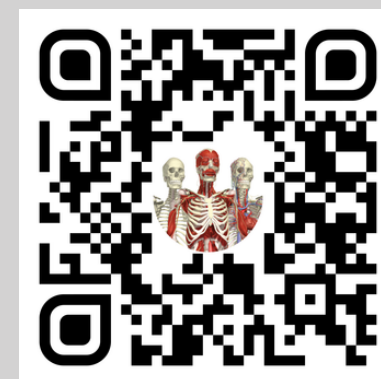

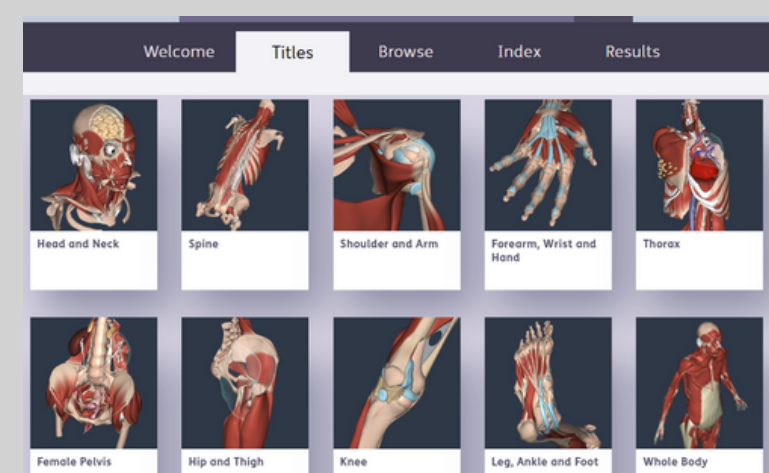

Anatomy.tv

A new online resource, Anatomy.tv from Primal Pictures, provides 3D views of all anatomical regions. We also have access to the Diseases & Conditions module which provides movies and images of 100 core conditions to help you fully understand the anatomical changes that occur as a result of different diseases.
