Training

Do you want to know how to conduct an evidence search and find relevant journal articles, or see if a service improvement has been made elsewhere? Do you want to know the basics of using popular social media tools? We can help! Free training sessions can be tailored to your specific needs, held in the Library or your place of work. Contact us to discuss your requirements.

Resources

Leadership & management

September 2018

How the library can support you

We can provide support, training & resources to help you develop your leadership and management skills, if you are completing a formal management course or if you just want to develop your skills. We can support you to research and search for resources, and use tools such as social media. We have a large collection of relevant books and journals which are available to all East Cheshire NHS Trust staff. Access to computers and study space 24/7, and advice and support from the librarians.

Books & eBooks

We have a wide selection of books on management, leadership, time management, research methods, report writing, etc. As well as the printed books we also have a growing collection of ebooks which you can access from work or home on your mobile device or computer:
